Momentum for fundamental economic success comes in the form of attracting and expanding primary job employers, which is the job of Sun Corridor Inc. Bringing in new business and helping businesses expand, in turn, benefits the existing business community with new customer prospects, new suppliers and new potential partners for their own growth plans. A stronger economy attracts professionals to move and stay here, expanding the talent base in our region. Retailers can then expand to serve these new businesses and people.

Success in these efforts and competing for business development takes resources to be successful on a national stage. Sun Corridor Inc.'s role is to "quarterback" and coordinate all economic development activities and programs in Southern Arizona under one umbrella. We act as the sales and marketing agency to attract new companies, new jobs, new talent and new capital investment.
